INTRODUCTION

The Baltimore National Heritage Area (BNHA) is a congressionally designated area encompassing 22 square miles within the city of Baltimore. The mission of BNHA is to promote, preserve, and enhance the heritage area’s cultural, historic, and natural resources for current and future generations. BNHA encourages activities that spur economic development through heritage tourism and make the heritage area more visitor-ready, visitor-friendly, and more livable for Baltimore residents. This is $1 for $1 matching grant program, with the match to be provided by the grantee (with non-state funds).

BNHA’s grant programs are a source of funding designed to provide strategic investments in cultural heritage tourism within the heritage area, particularly emerging neighborhoods, defined as neighborhoods that historically have not been invested in by public and private funders. The overarching goal is to connect residents and visitors to the stories and history that make each neighborhood unique. Specifically, the goal of this Neighborhood Placemaking Grant Program is to achieve the following, with the final outcome of neighborhoods becoming more visitor-friendly and visitor-ready:

- Assist neighborhoods with enhancing their quality of life through heritage tourism stewardship;
- Balance community and tourism;
- Increase awareness of the Baltimore National Heritage Area and its resources for neighborhoods.

ELIGIBLE ACTIVITIES

The Neighborhood Placemaking Grant Program may only be used to fund non-capital projects within the below three priority areas. This list is not intended to be exhaustive, but projects must align with one or more priority areas:

Navigate Your Neighborhood
Projects that aid in navigating through neighborhoods such as interpretive signage, pedestrian way finding signage, interpretive brochures, walking tours, educational programs and materials, festivals, performances, community events and other activities that ultimately attract visitors to historically-rich neighborhoods. This includes in-person and virtual offerings. If you are planning any in-person public events, please address a contingent plan due to changing Covid safety guidelines and what measures will be in place for public safety. Also ask, is this the best year to do an in-person event?

* Interpretation signage projects are encouraged to comply with BNHA’s recommended guidelines for interpretive signage projects.

Green Your Neighborhood
Projects that promote neighborhood greening activities, environmental stewardship, cleanliness, beautification, citizen community education and stewardship. In addition, projects that promote investments in city parks and open spaces to enhance safe and accessible recreation opportunities for visitors and residents.

*Please note: For all land use projects, written permission by the property owner must be uploaded with the application, to include any necessary permits.

Revitalize Your Neighborhood: Plan!
Planning and feasibility studies for capital projects, vacant lot development planning, market research, branding and marketing projects, research for content development, and project evaluation surveys.
